TO FIGHT FOR SELF-PROTECTION.
The Executive Committee of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association, at a meeting at the Fifth-avenue Hotel yesterday, decided to incorporate the association, with a capital stock of $3,000,000, and to attempt to control the forty burley growing counties of Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio and West Virginia; to establish warehouses and to fix prices that will pay the farmers to raise tobacco. A sufficient number of growers will be secured to guarantee control of 75 per cent. of the market, before business is commenced. Twenty-two of the burley growing counties have been organized, and at a meeting to be held in Lexington February 26 steps will be taken to organize the remaining counties. The proposed capital stock has already been largely spoken for by members of the association, which includes farmers, growers and merchants in small towns—Louisville Port.

SAMUEL GOODAN'S DEATH.—Samuel Goodan, living on the Western pike near town, died of the influenza of old age Sunday night and was buried in Owensville Cemetery Monday afternoon. For some years he had been practically blind and confined to his home.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon.
Deceased was born in Carter county, Ky., March 6th, 1814.

When a young man he came to this county and married Miss Susan Wells, sister of Robert, Alf and Eos Wells. The marriage took place in 1837 in the house just across the road from the home where Mr. and Mrs. Goodan lived the balance of their lives together.

They reared a large family of children: Joseph (living at home); Margaret (Mrs. John Oakley, now deceased); Cynthia (Mrs. James Williams, of Flat Creek); Miss Mary (at home); Daniel (of Simps, Ky.); John ("Big" of Buffalo, Ill.); Frank (deceased); and Peter (at home).
One child died in infancy. Mrs.
Goodan survives at the age of 83 years and is in good health for one was also a citizen of the town, living to close to the corporate limits. He has known by everybody except the young generation that has grown up since he grew too infirm to go away from home.

He was well esteemed and had many personal friends. He was an industrious man and made a good living for his family. His home life was simple and agreeable, and he and his devoted wife living in happiness together for two-thirds of a century. Everybody was sur-

Miss JOSEPHINE THOMAS' DEATH.
—After an illness of some months Josephine, wife of Andrew J. Thomas, died of heart failure at her home on Scott's Creek, near Coppewell, Rowen Co., January 16th and was buried at the Alfrey graveyard Jan. 17th.

Deceased was a daughter of John Athens and Zerlina Reed, deceased; she was one of four children, the other three still living: Oliver, of Menfies Co., and Mrs.
Eliza Alfrey and John, both of Rowan Co. Deceased was married to Andrew J. Thomas in the year 1871. There were born of this union four children: W. H., of this county; Randolph and Melito, all married; Sam M., dying young.

Her death is a sad blow to the community, as every one loved "Aunt Josie," as she was commonly called. Her greatest aim seemed to help any one who needed help and especially her children. About her last words were: "God bless my poor children." She was a member of the Christian Church, but she joined that body several years ago.

The aged husband and old children have the sympathy of the entire community. Peace to her ashes.
A FRIEND.

HARRIS GETS BEST PLACE.—The announcement was made this morning that another of Portsmouth's most enterprising and wide-awake business men was compelled to seek a larger and more modern place of business, owing to the gratifying expansion of his stock.

The great question is C. H. Harris will he relocate the street jewelry, and one of this city's most successful business men, who is always so alert to grasp an opportunity. Through the consummation of the deal last evening Mr. Harris has secured an elegant lease of the Dunn property, which all well know is located on the southeast corner of Gallia and Chil-lhouse streets, possibly the most desirable location in rapidly growing Portsmouth.

The improvements that will be made on this building will not only benefit Mr. Harris but the city in general. The building is a handsome one-story structure, well improved and the building that has been an eyesore for years. In the first place the building will be made two stories and will extend as far back as the new building recently erected by Mr. Dunn. While the building will not be the frame average person will not be able to detect this from the fact that an installation better than will be added and the same material will be used on all sides of the structure. The floors will be lowered, ceilings raised, a beautiful plate-glass front will be added with corner windows, and every other improvement that will be added.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

For Circuit Court Clerk.
We are authorized to announce James L. Connor as a candidate for Circuit Clerk of Bath county, party. Election, November, 1903.

party.

John D. Buckleberry proposes to spend seven millions to discover new cure for consumption. Coal oil may prove to be it.

The next U. S. Senate bill can take many new forms. The few old foxes fellows of long experience will run things the same as ever.

A resolution has been introduced in the Kansas legislature to amend the State election law so as to exclude all negroes from voting. That's enough to make John Brown's ghost appear on the scene.

The hero of the Maritime and merry sack had to take Hobson's choice at last by resigning from the Navy, the Naval Board being willing to retire him on half pay.
Hobson's reason given is he is in bad condition.

U. S. Senator Wellington, of Maryland, has introduced a bill to amend the Constitution by prohibiting any individual in the United States from owning more than ten million dollars' worth of property.
Uncle Russell Sage would call that positively outrageous.

A bill has been introduced in Congress to increase the annual salary of the President to $100,000.
As Presidents have been not only living high but saving big money out of the office the increase is not warranted from any standpoint.
Besides they needn't accept the bill if they can do better.

Andreas has twenty-one sure votes and doubtless would give a hundred thousand cash for the other six votes necessary to elect him U. S. Senator from Delaware.
The Republican opposing him desires only qualified credit, for they could defeat him by combining with the Democrats to elect a Republican for the long term and a Democrat for the short term. Addicks will finally reach the coveted place unless some such action is taken.

Germany, Britain, Germany and Italy want to buy the Venezuelan petroleum, which promises to bust up the negotiations in a row.
The other claimants, who have withheld the use of violence to acquire their claims, naturally feel that they deserve an equal share in the Venezuelan oil.
